UNOQUIP Code of Conduct

Our Values at UNOQUIP

At UNOQUIP, our values are the foundation of everything we do. They are reflected in all our policies and guide how we work, make decisions, and collaborate:

- Trust
 We build strong, honest relationships, within our teams and with our partners, through transparency, reliability, and integrity.
- Passion & Solutions
 We are driven by passion for our work and a commitment to finding practical, effective solutions that make a real difference.
- Curiosity
 We encourage curiosity, continuous learning, and open-minded thinking to drive innovation and improvement.

Our values are not optional; they are who we are. All employees, leaders, and partners are expected to reflect these principles in the way they interpret and apply our policies. They are central to our culture and ensure that UNOQUIP remains a trusted, dynamic, and purpose-driven organization.

Introduction

UNOQUIP strives towards responsible business conduct that respects people, society, and the environment. This policy document, including our Code of Conduct, forms the foundation of our sustainability work.

UNOQUIP considers responsible business conduct to be a prerequisite for sustainable development, meaning that today's generation get their needs covered without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs.¹ The UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) is the world's joint action plan for sustainable development. UNOQUIP works actively with the Sustainable Development Goals.

UNOQUIP commits to working actively with due diligence for responsible business conduct.² Due diligence is a risk-based approach to respect and safeguard people, society, and the environment in our own business and throughout the supply chain. We expect our suppliers and partners to follow the same approach. We strongly oppose modern slavery. The impact can be devastating for the victims. The part of our business where modern slavery could be at highest risk is in our supply chain and therefore, we see the potential to contribute to positive development in the supply chain.

Requirements - own business

UNOQUIP acknowledges that our business conduct can potentially have a negative impact on people, society, and the environment. At the same time, we see the potential to contribute to positive development in the supply chain. With this in mind, we have compiled the following principles and criteria guiding our own business:

Due diligence

UNOQUIP shall conduct due diligence for responsible business conduct. This involves conducting risk assessments to identify potential negative impacts on people, society, and the environment and to stop, prevent and reduce such impacts. The measures put in place are monitored and their effect evaluated. The measures are communicated to those affected by our actions. If our activities are found to cause or contribute to negative impact on people, society, or the environment, we will stop the activities and seek to provide remedy. If our supplier is responsible for the negative impact, the supplier is responsible for providing remedy.³

Responsible purchasing practices

UNOQUIP considers responsible purchasing practices to be one of our most important tools for responsible business conduct. UNOQUIP shall adapt our purchasing practices to strengthen, and not undermine, our suppliers' ability to deliver on our requirements related to people, society, and the environment. We strive towards lasting supplier relationships with suppliers who show a particular willingness and ability to create positive developments in the supply chain.

Freedom of association and worker representation

UNOQUIP supports the right to freedom of association and other forms of democratically elected worker representation. We shall involve worker representatives and other relevant stakeholders in our work with responsible business conduct.

Workplace Health and Safety

We want to provide the best possible work conditions for our employees. Every employee has a right to feel safe at work. Our company is committed to following legal standards and creating a hazard-free workplace. Please see UNOQUIP Occupational Health and Safety Policy.

Supplier development and partnership

In dialogue with suppliers, we will consider, if needed, contributing to capacity building or resources that enable our suppliers to comply with UNOQUIP's requirements related to responsible business conduct. This way we lay the foundation for collaboration with suppliers that show the willingness and ability to work on positive development for people, society, and the environment in the supply chain. We will ensure our suppliers share our policies with their workers, train in the relevant modern slavery policies, undertake activity that helps workers to have access to representation, and ensure no one is trapped in debt bondage.

KPIs: Number of employees trained and percentage of all, Number of non-compliant reports received, Number of supplier audits.

Anti-corruption

UNOQUIP, including all employees, shall never offer or receive illegal or inappropriate monetary gifts or other remuneration to achieve private or business benefits in their own interest or in the interest of customers, agents, or suppliers. Please see UNOQUIP Anti-Bribery and Anti-Corruption Policy.

Countries affected by trade boycott.

UNOQUIP, including all our suppliers and partners, shall avoid trading with partners that have activities in countries where a trade boycott is imposed by the UN.

Training

All new hires participate in a mandatory onboarding program where all policies are introduced and signed off. All employees are obligated to participate in an annual refresher training and will also participate in a training program when the policy is being updated.

Reporting

All Employees have a responsibility to report any deviation of our Code of Conduct Policy to compliance@unoquip.com

Requirements - conditions in the supply chain

We expect our suppliers and partners to work focused and systematically to comply with our guidelines for suppliers, here under our code of conduct, which covers fundamental requirements on human rights, labour rights, anti-corruption, animal welfare and the environment. Our suppliers shall:

- Follow our guidelines for suppliers (please see Supplier Code of Conduct), hereunder the code of conduct.
- Conduct due diligence for responsible business conduct. This involves; conducting risk assessments to identify potential negative impact on people, society, and the environment and to stop, prevent and reduce such impact. The measures put in place must be monitored and their effect evaluated. The measures taken must be communicated to those affected by your actions. If the supplier is responsible for the negative impact/damage, they are responsible for providing remedy.⁴
- Show willingness and ability to continuous improvement for people, society, and the environment through collaboration.
- At the request of (company's name) be able to document how they, and potential subcontractors, work to comply with the guidelines.

If the supplier, after several requests by UNOQUIP, does not show the willingness or ability to comply with the guidelines for suppliers, the contract may be cancelled.

Principles for responsible business conduct (Code of Conduct)

These principles for responsible business conduct are based on UN and ILO conventions and provide minimum, not maximum standards. The relevant legal framework at the place of production shall be respected. Where national laws and regulations address the same subjects as these guidelines, the most stringent shall apply.

1. Forced and compulsory labour (ILO Conventions Nos. 29 and 105)

1.1. There shall be no forced, bonded, or involuntary prison labour.

1.2. Workers shall not be required to lodge deposits or identity papers with their employer and shall be free to leave their employer after reasonable notice.

2. Freedom of Association and the Right to Collective Bargaining (ILO Conventions Nos. 87, 98, 135 and 154)

⁴ OECD, «Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Business Conduct», 2018.

2.1. Workers, without distinction, shall have the right to join or form trade unions of their own choosing and to bargain collectively. The employer shall not interfere with, obstruct, the formation of unions or collective bargaining.

2.2 Workers' representatives shall not be discriminated against and shall have access to carry out their representative functions in the workplace.

2.3 Where the right to freedom of association and/or collective bargaining is restricted under law, the employer shall facilitate, and not hinder, the development of alternative forms of independent and free workers representation and negotiations.

3. Child Labour (UN Convention on the Rights of the Child, ILO Conventions Nos. 138, 182 and 79, and ILO Recommendation No. 146)

3.1. The minimum age for workers shall not be less than 15 and comply with the national minimum age for employment, or the age of completion of compulsory education, whichever of these is higher. If the local minimum is set at 14 years in accordance with the developing country exceptions under ILO Convention 138, this lower age may apply.

3.3. There shall be no recruitment of child labour, defined as any work performed by a child younger than the age(s) specified above.

3.4. No person under the age of 18 shall be engaged in labour that is hazardous to their health, safety, or morals, including night work.

3.5. Policies and procedures for remediation of child labour prohibited by ILO conventions no. 138 and 182, shall be established, documented, and communicated to personnel and other interested parties. Adequate support shall be provided to enable such children to attend and complete compulsory education.

4. Discrimination (ILO Conventions Nos. 100 and 111 and the UN Convention on Discrimination Against Women)

4.1. There shall be no discrimination at the workplace in hiring, compensation, access to training, promotion, termination, or retirement based on ethnic background, caste, religion, age, disability, gender, marital status, sexual orientation, union membership or political affiliation.

4.2. Measures shall be established to protect workers from sexually intrusive, threatening, insulting or exploitative behavior, and from discrimination or termination of employment on unjustifiable grounds, e.g., marriage, pregnancy, parenthood, or HIV status.

5. Harsh or Inhumane Treatment (UN Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, Art. 7)

5.1. Physical abuse or punishment, or threats of physical abuse, sexual or other harassment and verbal abuse, as well as other forms of intimidation, is prohibited.

6. Health and Safety (ILO Convention No. 155 and ILO Recommendation No. 164)

6.1. The working environment shall be safe and hygienic, bearing in mind the prevailing knowledge of industry and of any specific hazards. Hazardous chemicals and other substances shall be carefully managed. Adequate steps shall be taken to prevent accidents and injury to health arising out of, associated with, or occurring in, the course of work, by minimizing, so far as is reasonably practicable, the causes of hazards inherent in the working environment.

6.2. Workers shall receive regular and documented health and safety training, and such training shall be repeated for new or reassigned workers.

6.3. Access to clean toilet facilities and to potable water, and, if appropriate, sanitary facilities for food storage shall be provided.

6.4. Accommodation, where provided, shall be clean, safe, and adequately ventilated, and shall have access to clean toilet facilities and potable water.

7. Wages (ILO Convention No. 131)

7.1. Wages and benefits paid for a standard working week shall as a minimum meet national legal standards or industry benchmark standards, whichever is higher. Wages should always be enough to meet basic needs, including some discretionary income.

7.2. All workers shall be provided with a written and comprehensible contract outlining their wage conditions and method of payment before entering employment.

7.3. Deductions from wages as a disciplinary measure shall not be permitted.

8. Working Hours (ILO Convention No. 1 and 14)

8.1. Working hours shall comply with national laws and benchmark industry standards, and not more than prevailing international standards. Weekly working hours should not be more than 48 hours on a regular basis.

8.2. Workers shall be provided with at least one day off for every 7-day period.

8.3. Overtime shall be limited and voluntary. Recommended maximum overtime is 12 hours per week, i.e., that the total working week, including overtime, shall not exceed 60 hours. Exceptions to this are accepted when regulated by a collective bargaining agreement.

8.4. Workers shall always receive overtime pay for all hours worked above the normal working hours (see 8.1 above), a minimum in accordance with relevant legislation.

9. Regular Employment (ILO Convention No. 95, 158, 175, 177 and 181)

9.1. Obligations to employees under international conventions, national law and regulations concerning regular employment shall not be avoided using short-term contracting (such as contract labour, casual labour, or day labour), sub-contractors or other labour relationships.

9.2. All workers are entitled to a contract of employment in a language they understand.

9.3. The duration and content of apprenticeship programs shall be clearly defined.

10. Marginalized Populations (UN Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, art. 1 and 2)

10.1. Production and the use of natural resources shall not contribute to the destruction and/or degradation of the resources and income base for marginalized populations, such as in claiming large land areas, use of water or other natural resources on which these populations are dependent.

11. Environment

11.1. Negative impact on the environment shall be reduced throughout the value chain. In line with the precautionary principle, measures shall be taken to continuously minimize greenhouse gas emissions and local pollution, the use of harmful chemicals, pesticides, and ensure sustainable resource extraction and management of water, oceans, forest and land, and the conservation of biodiversity.

11.2. National and international environmental legislation and regulations shall be respected, and relevant discharge permits obtained.

12. Corruption

12.1. Corruption in any form is not accepted, including bribery, extortion, kickbacks and improper private or professional benefits to customers, agents, contractors, suppliers, or employees of any such party or government officials.

13. Animal welfare

13.1 Animal welfare shall be respected. Measures should be taken to minimize any negative impact on the welfare of livestock and working animals.

13.2 National and international animal welfare legislation and regulations shall be respected.
